KEY INSIGHTS

- Your overall Financial Health Score is 17/100. Focus on the emergency fund and savings rate first; investments compound best once the base is stable.
- Your savings rate is -658.3%, below the recommended 20% benchmark. Consider trimming discretionary spend or automating a higher SIP amount right after payday.
- Your emergency fund covers only 0.2 months of expenses. Aim for 6 months — at your current contribution rate, prioritize this before increasing investment risk.
- Your debt-to-income ratio is 14%, within a manageable range. Extra prepayments now could still save significant interest over the loan term.
